Western Union Fined For Taking Bets On Races

BRIDGETON, N. J. — (AP) — A jury has convicted the Western Union Telegraph Co. and its local office manager of maintaining a disorderly house where persons placed bets.

The huge communications firm issued a statement yesterday that it would appeal the decision, which may affect laws governing the interstate transmission of messages.

It took the seven-man, five-woman Cumberland county jury six and one-half hours to find the company and its Bridgeton office manager, Charles H. Frake, guilty of the charges.

Western Union faces a possible maximum fine of $1,000, and Frake a $1,000 fine or three years in prison, or both.

Each of the jurors, polled separately by County Judge David J. Horvitz, issued a guilty verdict. The jurist set Nov. 16 as the date for sentencing.

Milk Up To 22 Cents A Quart In Detroit

DETROIT — (AP) — The price of milk in the Detroit area will go up a half cent a quart next week.

Dairymen said the increase was due to a new federal order increasing the price of raw milk to farmers by 30 cents a hundred pounds.

The boost will bring the price of most home delivered standard milk to 22 cents a quart. Homogenized milk will cost 23 cents.

Selective Service Calls For 59,650 January Draftees

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The defense department today asked for 59,650 draftees in January—the largest number asked for any month since last spring. Of the total, 48,000 will go to the army and 11,650 to the marines.

The defense department said "this goal compensates for the low call in December when inductions were suspended for the holiday December 21, 1951, through January 2, 1952."

The December call is for 16,900 men. In recent months, calls have been running around 40,000 men.

The highest number called in one month was last March when it was 80,000.

Landlady Solves Trunk Murder

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — A landlady's curiosity was credited today with solving the East Los Angeles trunk murder.

A slender, nervous house painter named John Kelley admitted to deputy sheriffs yesterday they announced, that he strangled his 39-year-old wife, Margaret, during an argument last Oct. 13 over money and another woman.

Inspector Garner Brown said Kelly, 44, wept out a story of how he stuffed the body into an old trunk and left it in the bedroom of the couple's two sons, Richard, 7, and John, Jr., 10.

For five nights, Kelley related, the boys slept in the room with their mother's body, never knowing it was there. He said he told them she had gone to Boston, where their grandfather was dying.

In his statement, taken down by a stenographer, Kelley said he finally dumped the trunk at night in a nearby vacant lot after the children had "complained of a strange odor."

Mrs. Hattie Bell McFarland, 72, had read about the slaying in the newspapers. Not seeing Mrs. Kelley around the house for 10 days made her suspicious, so she called the authorities.

Jets Tangle In Nine Dogfights Over Korea

U. S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea — (AP) — Allied airmen shot down one Red jet and damaged four in nine separate dog fights today—a record number of air battles for a single day in the Korean war.

The Fifth Air Force said all United Nations planes "involved in these encounters returned safely to their bases."

The blazing air war contrasted with cold quiet on the snow covered ground fronts.

Reds Remain Evasive On Buffer, Don't Like To Give Up Kaesong

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Red truce negotiators pressed Allied delegates today to accept the Communist proposal for a cease-fire buffer zone across Korea — but balked at issuing a ultimatum.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, United Nations command spokesman, said the Communist subcommittee at Panmunjom urged the Allies to give up their demands for Kaesong and accept the Red line.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodges, head of the U. N. subcommittee, asked the Reds if they were issuing an ultimatum.

"They refused to answer directly," Nuckols said, "and were evasive, saying that sincerity was necessary on both sides."

Two meetings during the day wound up with "no progress." They agreed to try again at 11 a. m., Saturday (9 p. m., Friday EST).

No Heavy Fighting
While the truce teams argued, small fights erupted between patrols all along the snow-covered battlefield. No heavy fighting was reported as ground troops waited to see what happened at Panmunjom.

The air over northwest Korea flamed with nine jet battles—a record for a single day. One Red jet was shot down and four damaged. The Fifth Air Force said no Allied planes were lost.

The Red jet shot down was the 100th MIG-15 reported by Fifth Air Force pilots. B-29 Superforts have been credited with 33 others.

Truce negotiations hinge now on whether the former armistice city of Kaesong and its guardian hills will be given up. The Reds want to keep them. The Allies want them. (Continued on Page 6)

Politicians Of Both Parties Waiting To Talk With Eisenhower

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Democrats may vie with Republicans for the political ear of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on his return to Washington next week.

An announcement by Senator Duff (R-Pa) that he expects to talk to Eisenhower during his visit about the 1952 Republican presidential nomination brought a statement by Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-Sc) that he would like to discuss the Democratic nomination with the General.

Claimed By Democrats
And all this prompted Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) to tell a reporter he thinks Eisenhower's name might go before both conventions unless the general makes some direct statement on his political affiliations in the interim.

Johnston said that previous conferences he has held with the General have left the impression with him that Eisenhower "is more of a Democrat than a Republican."

Before the 1948 Democratic convention, Johnston boomed Eisenhower for the party nomination over President Truman, although after the election he hurried back to Washington to welcome Mr. Truman on his return to the capital. The South Carolina senator indicated he is not likely to be in the President's corner next year.

Truman To Ask General About His 1952 Plans

Capital Puzzled By Flying Trip

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Next Monday's meeting between President Truman and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will provide the chief executive opportunity to pose a question of administrative as well as political import to him:

Will Eisenhower leave his post of supreme commander of allied powers in Europe to seek a presidential nomination in 1952?

If so, the president undoubtedly would like to know that now so he can advise the other member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, perhaps privately, they should begin thinking about someone to fill the job.

May Push Britain

Eisenhower was appointed to the supreme command early this year at the request of the other 11 members of the NATO. He was picked essentially because of his fame and personality while supreme commander of allied forces in World War II, not primarily because he was an American.

Whether the European members of NATO would want another American commander, like Gen. Omar Bradley, now chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, remains to be seen.

Winston Churchill is back as prime minister of Britain. Before he was returned he had voiced some outspoken comment when the proposal was made to give a supreme command in the Mediterranean to an American and not to a Briton. It is conceivable that he might still be of that mind if the

Pickford Bank Books Tangled

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich. — (AP) — A retired banker will assume the job of straightening out the tangled affairs of the private bank of Pickford.

Harold McGauley, former cashier of the Central Savings Bank here, yesterday was named receiver of the Pickford bank. He was appointed at a meeting of Circuit Judge Herbert W. Runnels with the banks directors.

An investigation of the bank's finances was begun after its cashier, Ford Beacom, shot himself to death Tuesday. It has been estimated that the bank's books might be as much as $400,000 out of balance, due principally to bad loans.

The Pickford bank is one of the last remaining 11 private banks in Michigan. Until a recent session of the legislature, the state had little control over them.

A bill approved last month, however, gave the state banking commissioner control over such banks. Examiners had been scheduled to start a routine check at Pickford today.

FISH TUG FLAMES EXTINGUISHED—Fire that followed an explosion aboard the fish tug Casey Brothers and severely burned Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gudwer and their son, Robert, of Perkins, is pictured being extinguished by the Escanaba fire department. The Gudwers suffered second degree burns of the face and neck. They were saved by the quick action of Tom Ruleau, Escanaba, who took them off their flaming boat three minutes after the explosion. (Daily Press Photo)

Three Escape Death In Escanaba Harbor Fish Tug Explosion

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gudwer and their son, Robert, 18, of Perkins, today despite severe burns expressed gratitude to rescuers who saved them when explosion and fire turned the interior of their steel-hulled fish tug into a blazing inferno drifting on Little Bay de Noc.

The Gudwers were saved yesterday afternoon by Tom Ruleau, Escanaba commercial fisherman, who brought his boat alongside the flaming tug three minutes after the explosion.

The explosion aboard the Casey Brothers was at 2:30 p. m. yesterday afternoon by Tom Ruleau, Escanaba commercial fisherman, who brought his boat alongside the flaming tug three minutes after the explosion.

The Gudwers were returning to their dock at Wells after lifting herring nets on the bay.

Caused Not Determined
With Ruleau on the rescue boat were Wesley and Edward Williams and John Bolin of Cedar River.

The Gudwers today said they did not know the cause of the explosion that swept the 36-foot all-steel fish tug. Escanaba firemen, who put out the blaze after the burning tug was towed to municipal dock, said gasoline fumes must have been ignited by a spark.

Interior of the tug and its equipment were burned. The heat was so intense it buckled steel plates of the boat.

The Gudwers said the loss was not covered by insurance. They have fished each fall during the herring run for the past three years and yesterday's ill-fated

Houghton Snow 5 Inches Deep

(By The Associated Press)

A new snow storm and record low temperatures hit weather-buffed Upper Michigan today and began spreading south.

Houghton, where the final snow piles of winter melted only last June, reported a five-inch fall today. That brought the total snowfall since Tuesday afternoon, when the snow started, to 15 inches.

Along with the snow came a mercury reading of 11 at 8 a. m. and the temperature still was falling.

At Marquette the temperature also slid to 11 above—a new record for the date. The previous mark of 18 was set in 1875.

Snow fell elsewhere in Michigan, over much of the Upper Peninsula, and as far south as Battle Creek and Lansing. The weather bureau said more occasional flurries would hit in the north and west of the Lower Peninsula tonight. Southern Michigan's low was expected to get in the 20's tonight.

Early today Cadillac recorded 16 above, Alpena 24, Battle Creek 25 and Detroit 31.

The weather bureau predicted continued cold tonight and Saturday for most of the state.

Boys In Korea Get Thanksgiving Turkey

YOKOHAMA — (AP) — It will be turkey, as usual, for the U. S. soldiers in Korea Thanksgiving.

The quartermaster is ready to distribute more than 1,000,000 pounds of turkey, candy, fruit cake, olives shrimp cocktail, mixed nuts and cranberry sauce.

thousand trout were planted in the Escanaba River this week in an effort to determine which month is the best for planting, as revealed by fishermen's reports next season. Anglers catching tagged trout next season will aid the program by informing the department when and where the fish were taken. Plantings were made at Cornell and near the headwaters of the Escanaba River. (Daily Press Photos)

Last Of Ohio's Big Gambling Clubs Close

TOLEDO, O. — (AP) — The last big-time gambling casino in Ohio has been closed, Anthony A. Rutkowski, state liquor law enforcement chief said yesterday.

Lucas county authorities yesterday shut down the Webster Inn, the Hollywood club and the Victory club, all just outside Toledo. The authorities acted under a new state law which allows them to close as common nuisances all spots used for gambling.

Rutkowski's statement came three years after Gov. Frank J. Lausche promised to stamp out major gambling in the state.

Draft To Cover 2,000,000 Men

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Selective service estimated today that some 2,000,000 men between the ages of 26 and 35 are subject to the draft under a provision in the Draft-Universal Military Training (UMT) law.

A spokesman for the agency said, however, that unless world conditions take a serious turn for the worse, there is little likelihood of widespread drafting of men in their 30's.

The draft law extension passed this year, lowered the minimum draft age from 19 to 18½ years and boosted the 26-year maximum to 35 for potential draftees who received deferments on or after June 19 of this year.

Among those affected are men deferred as students, or for dependency or essential occupational or agricultural reasons, 4-Fs, ROTC students; those who enlisted in the National Guard before they were 18½, aviation cadets deferred up to four months in order to enter the aviation training program, elected officials and others.

Those whose draft liability still ends at the age of 26 include veterans, aliens, conscientious objectors, ministers and divinity students, sole surviving sons and—once they have completed their period of enlistment—men who went into the National Guard before Feb. 1, 1951.

Cadillac Returned; Thief Uses It A Year

WICHITA, Kas. — (AP) — A thief who stole a new Cadillac from an automobile agency a year ago, brought it back yesterday with thanks.

A salesman answered the telephone at the agency and heard a voice say:

"I took your Cadillac last year and just brought it back. It's parked in front of your building, but doesn't have any anti-freeze in it. You had better put some in. It might freeze up."

The caller hung up after a cheery, "thanks a lot."

The car was in good condition. In fact, detective James Reeves said, it had been repaired, the engine had been steam cleaned and the interior had been cleaned recently.

Community Chest Drive Passes $15,000 Mark

Within sight of their goal of $20,000 but with much work remaining to be done to achieve it, Delta County Community Chest workers held a "windup" rally at Chest headquarters here last night and reported a total of $15,440.96 collected to date.

It was decided to point toward next Thursday as the final windup day, but because of necessity in some cases collections will be received beyond that date.

All Chest workers, however, were urged by County Chairman Nicholas Chapekis to redouble their efforts today, tomorrow and early next week toward reaching the $20,000 goal by next Thursday.

It Can Be Done

It was the consensus that if all workers concentrate on making a complete canvass in their respective districts in Escanaba, Gladstone and the 14 townships and if all persons not yet solicited contribute generously, the goal can be reached.

The work of six agencies—Michigan Children's Aid, Cod Liver Oil Fund, Salvation Army, Campfire Girls, Boy and Girl Scouts—will be financed by money collected in this campaign. If the goal is not reached, it was pointed out, their work will be seriously curtailed next year. Chest workers also are eager for success to prove that the Community Chest is the "only answer to consolidating all drives into one in Escanaba and throughout the county."

Of the $15,440.96 subscribed to date, $9,821.18 has been collected in Escanaba, $4,150 in Gladstone and $1,469.78 in the 14 townships. The table adjoining this article shows the progress in each community and township, the amount collected to date and the corresponding quota.

Escanaba Promising

Work is progressing favorably in Escanaba, James G. Ward, Jr., city chairman, reported, but considerable cleanup work remains to be done. Of 11 committees working, only three have completed their work. Solicitors in the eight other committees have been working hard, however, and are nearly complete.

Committees whose work is complete are Advance Gift, O. V. Thatcher and Carl Sawyer, 23rd Street, Ted Breitenbach and Frank Beaudry, and Schools, John A. Lemmer. Many block captains on Ludington street have turned in a good job, and only six of the 19 blocks on Ludington are not yet canvassed.

FHA Committee Holds Training Conference Here

The Farmers Home Administration county committee in this area held their annual training meeting Thursday. The group met to discuss new regulations passed by the last session of Congress.

Counties represented were, Marquette, Alger, Dickinson, Menominee, Delta, and Schoolcraft. Delta county committee members present were Hilding Olson, Hyde; Fred Storch, Rapid River; and Henry Landis of Isabella. Schoolcraft county was represented by John Hartman of Cooks, and Reinhart Matchinski of Manistique.

County committee act as an advisory group to the county supervisor in connection with loans made by the FHA.

Byron L. Braams, State Field Representative from Escanaba, was in charge of the meeting. County supervisors present were Fred Hoffman of Menominee, Warner Biekkola of Marquette, and Robert Abbott of Escanaba.

Wilbert Weeba, 42, Of Newberry Dies

Wilbert Weeba, 42, died Thursday morning at Pinecrest Sanitarium in Powers, where he had been a patient for the past three years. A former resident of Newberry, he was born April 11, 1909 in Dollarville.

He is survived by one sister and one brother, Mrs. Ina McGrath, Escanaba, and George Weeba, somewhere in California.

Friends may call at the Alto funeral home beginning this evening. Funeral services will be held at 2 tomorrow afternoon at the funeral home with the Rev. Joseph Dickson officiating. Burial will take place in Lakeview cemetery.

City Will Plow Sidewalks Here

Four-Wheel Drive Tractor Purchased

The city council last night authorized the purchase of a four-wheel drive, rubber-tired tractor for experimental sidewalk plowing here next winter.

The tractor, equipped with sidewalk plow and cab enclosure will cost $4612 and was ordered from the Upper Michigan Trailer Sales of Marquette. The equipment is a Harris Powerhorse, described by the representative, Barney Melvin, of Marquette, as the most effective sidewalk plowing equipment available. His bid was the only one submitted.

The City of Escanaba has never plowed sidewalks in past winters but the council has authorized experiments this year to determine the effectiveness of sidewalk plowing and to sound out public opinion. The equipment is capable of plowing 40 to 60 miles per day, the sales representative said.

Recreation Discussed
The council also opened bids last night on a new police car and two two-ton trucks. The police car bid of $1063.90, including trade-in, for a new six cylinder Ford submitted by the Northern Motor company was accepted. The Northern Motor company also was low bidder on the two two-ton trucks with a net price of $5612.02 for the two units, including trade-ins.

The council enacted on final reading an amendment to the city planning commission ordinance to require only a majority vote of the council to override planning commission action on matters involving public land use.

A discussion on city recreation developed when several residents of North Escanaba appeared before the council to request reopening of the former Kiwanis recreation center in that area.

Mrs. Wendell Erickson and Mrs. Emil Johnson reported that there are a large number of young children in that area who should be served by a recreation center. Art Peterson, city recreation director, pointed out that the North Escanaba center was started by the Kiwanis club a year ago. The club contributed $2300 to the project and the city contributed about the same amount. The Kiwanis club later withdrew its support because of insufficient funds and when the city's recreation budget was reduced it became necessary to eliminate the North Escanaba center.

Peterson explained that there is no recreation center anywhere in the city for youngsters under the age of 11. Club 314 in South 14th street, he explained, was primarily for children and youth over the age of 11 and is designed to serve the entire community.

Transfer Utility Profits
Other actions taken by the council follow:

Authorized the sale of land near the Harnischfeger truck crane plant that is sought by the company for a parking lot for employees.

Authorized the transfer of $24,465 in utility profits for the first quarter of the fiscal year to the general fund.

Authorized the city manager to pay off notes totalling $43,500 held by local banks.

Tabled a request from the Dollar Bay Terminal company for the purchase of land in the city-owned dock project site for use as an oil terminal. The council indicated that if the land is to be sold for oil storage purposes, all oil companies should be given an opportunity to submit bids.

Heard a protest from Herbert Johnson, former city park patrolman. Johnson reported that his police car and police gun were taken from him by the police department last summer after he had made an arrest and he sought an official explanation of the action. He also reported that he is working now for the public works department but was told by his foremen that he may be discharged. Johnson also asked an explanation of this situation.

City Manager Aronson reported that Johnson's car and gun were taken from him by the safety director because Johnson did not have proper police training. The city manager said that he is not aware of any plans to discharge Johnson, who Aronson said, was transferred to the public works department at the city manager's request.

The council asked the city manager to investigate Johnson's protest and to report to the council at its next meeting.

Why Do You Recommend O-JIB-WA Mrs. Miller?

I RECOMMEND O-JIB-WA BITTERS simply because it's the only medicine that helped my arthritis, and I'm grateful for what it has done for me."

Yes folks, for more than just temporary relief and for positive assurance of better results, you can't buy a better medicine than O-JIB-WA Bitters.

Mrs. S. Miller, wife of Edward S. Miller of Yale, Michigan recently made the following statement:

"Just a short time ago arthritis settled in all my joints from my hips to my feet. The pain and stiffness was terrible and I couldn't even move around to do my work, and for three weeks I couldn't even get out of bed. I tried several other treatments without results, and had about given up hope, when I heard about O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and decided to give it a trial. The results were really amazing to me. For at the end of a week, I began to improve, and in less than a month, the pains and stiffness had completely left me. Now, thanks to O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I am entirely free of rheumatism and arthritis, and nothing tires me. O-JIB-WA is the only medicine that helped me, and I am always recommending it to other people."

3 Famous Plays To Be Presented

The annual season ticket sale campaign for the Civic Drama Guild series, sponsored by the Escanaba Lions club, is progressing satisfactorily. A. J. Goulais, chairman, has announced.

JOHN VAN DRUTEN will be presented here with all-star professional New York casts, professional lighting, costume and props.

Three professional plays of outstanding reputation will be presented during the winter season. The first is "Darkness at Noon", to be presented Nov. 22. "The Voice of the Turtle" will be presented Jan. 10 and the final play in the series, "Heaven Can Wait" is booked for Jan. 10.

All of the plays will be presented here with all-star professional New York casts, professional lighting, costume and props. "Voice of the Turtle" is an outstanding production in which Claude Rains starred in the New York presentation and Edward G. Robinson in the Chicago cast. Anti-Communism in theme, the drama shows the inner workings of Communism. Laid in a Russian prison camp, the drama is tense and exciting.

"Darkness at Noon" is an outstanding production in which Claude Rains starred in the New York presentation and Edward G. Robinson in the Chicago cast. Anti-Communism in theme, the drama shows the inner workings of Communism. Laid in a Russian prison camp, the drama is tense and exciting.

"Heaven Can Wait" is the story of a messenger who made a mistake and delivered the wrong person too soon. The screen version was titled, "Here Comes Mr. Jordan". It was written first as a play but before it was produced the story was purchased as a film. Ultimately it did reach Broadway in its original form in which it will be presented here.

Reserved seat season tickets can be purchased from any member of the Escanaba Lions club or at Gust Asps.

Australians Prefer Immigration, Unions
SYDNEY—(P)—Recent Gallup polls in Australia show that the Australians favor immigration, like trade unions, road travel and mystery novels and favor price control.

When it comes to sports, two out of three adult Australians prefer to leave it to the teen-agers. Among those who do indulge, tennis is the most popular until the age of 50. After that something called "lawn bowls" takes over in popularity.

COLD WAVE SLOWS ORE LOADING—Temperatures dipping well below freezing is making it necessary to put steaming engines at work to loosen frozen ore in cars on the C&NW ore docks. One engine was put on yesterday, four were steaming this morning and the number will be increased to six by afternoon. One thousand nine hundred cars of frozen ore is on hand in the yards. (Daily Press photo)

Early Freeze-Up Delays Ore Loading; Shipments Here At 6,107,345 Tons

Old man weather dropped temperatures to near-zero in the Upper Lakes region last night and put the brakes on the previously rapid flow of vitally needed iron ore.

It was 11 degrees at Escanaba today and 1,900 cars of frozen ore were waiting to be unloaded. Duluth reported zero and Ashland 5 above in the earliest freeze-up in many years.

L. A. McMillan, Chicago & North Western railroad dock agent, today said four locomotives were steaming on this morning and the number would be increased to six by afternoon.

May Not Reach Goal
Ore handlers were punching out of the cars on the docks and tonight the steaming plant will be started at the Danforth yards.

When ore freezes in the cars the process of emptying them into dock pockets and thence into waiting ships is slowed to a walk, compared to the ease of handling unfrozen ore.

At the end of October a total of 6,107,345 tons of ore had been loaded out of Escanaba—but if the cold weather continues for any length of time it may be impossible to get out the 6,800,000 tons established by the mines as Escanaba's goal in 1951.

Will Set New Record

October ore shipments at Escanaba totaled 821,209 tons compared to 613,419 tons loaded out in October last year, McMillan reported.

The 6,107,345 tons for this season to Nov. 1 is within a few thousands of tons of breaking the previous season records set in 1942 and 1943. Without the delay caused by the current cold wave the old records would have topped with in another week.

Last year to Nov. 1 the total was 4,441,046 tons. In October this year 94 boats were loaded out at Escanaba compared to 73 for the month a year ago.

To Close In December

The season goal of 6,800,000 tons would be reached here if weather conditions are at all favorable, for the shipping season is not expected to end until early December.

Last year the last boat to clear from Escanaba with a cargo of iron ore left the harbor on Dec. 11. Whether the season will go that late this year depends on weather conditions.

The rush for ore to meet the nation's defense program and civilian needs for steel is essential if winter stockpiles are to be built up to carry the steel mills through the months when shipping lanes are frozen over.

Total ore tonnage to Nov. 1 from all Great Lakes ports was above 84,000,000 tons, setting a new peacetime mark.

Hunter Speaks On Age Problem

Community's Role Is Described

Various communities are beginning to launch programs to assist older people in living more useful and enjoyable lives in the later years, Woodrow W. Hunter of the University of Michigan reported to an extension lecture group at the Escanaba junior high school last evening.

Hunter's lecture, titled "Community Programs for Older People," was the final of a series on "Living In the Later Years", sponsored by the University of Michigan Extension Service.

"We believe that the 'rocking chair' philosophy works more havoc upon the body and mind of older people," said Hunter. "We subscribe to the 'keep active' philosophy. Older people should maintain an interest in people and activities in their community."

Work Is Important

Hunter said that the loss of employment through retirement often has a detrimental effect upon the mental and physical condition of older people. One's standing in a community, his social relationships and attitude toward life depends in most instances on one's job, he added.

"Too many become moody, frustrated older people because of inactivity," Hunter continued.

Loss of employment in the later years, he pointed out, means a reduction of income, which forces many older persons to curtail their social activities, diets and contributions to churches. Adjustment to the physical infirmities of old age also become necessary.

"It is somewhat of a paradox that while older people should continue to remain active," Hunter explained, "they must reduce their activity. But some reduce too much."

Dread Institutions

Hunter said that interviews with many older people reveal they dread the prospect of having to go to institution or home, where they will become isolated from the stream of life. The aged prefer to remain near the church, shopping district and within the community where they have lived most of their lives.

Hunter discussed some of the programs that have been adopted in various communities for the benefit of ageing persons.

Committees have been organized with representation from the schools, churches and social agencies to study the problem. They have launched a variety of programs, including: Employment services for older people, exchanges for selling products made by aged, self-help workshops, home work, home care for ailing aged, housekeeping services, camping trips, recreation in parks and community centers, hobby shows, vesper services, and social clubs.

Hunter warned against the formation of clubs that would tend to isolate older people from the younger, however. He explained that the objective should always be to encourage the aged to remain active in community life.

"The program should be designed to give the older people an opportunity to be of fullest possible service to the community," Hunter said.

Health Officials Estimate 40 Will Die Of Monoxide Poisoning

ACCORDING to estimates of the Michigan Department of Health, 40 Michigan persons will die this winter from monoxide poisoning. It is a dire prediction that should serve as a warning to every Michigan resident because these deaths can be avoided.

The foremost cause of monoxide poisoning is the automobile. Exhaust gases from cars are heavily laden with the deadly poison. A motorist who lets his car engine run in a closed garage, or who tolerates a leaky muffler or tailpipe is asking for tragedy. Before winter sets in, be sure to have your exhaust system checked and to replace defective parts.

Because monoxide poison is both odorless and colorless the toxic effects are usually unnoticed until it is too late.

By all means, don't park for long periods of time with the car motor running and the windows closed.

Another potential danger source is a defective furnace. The heating plants, too, produce monoxide poison and if the furnace or the flues are defective, the poison can kill all the people in the household. A space heater likewise is a potential source of trouble if the room is poorly ventilated.

A proper checkup now, at the outset of the winter season, can save lives later. And, of course, periodic checks throughout the winter months likewise are advisable.

Don't take unnecessary chances.

Private Bank Has $200,000 Shortage

THAT the state legislature in special session acted wisely in bringing all private banks under the control of the state banking commission is evidenced by the tragic developments involving the Bank of Pickford, near Sault Ste. Marie.

The bank cashier killed himself this week, a tragedy that disclosed a shortage of $200,000. In all probability this shortage would have been materially less, if not prevented in its entirety if the bank had been examined at periodic intervals by examiners of the state commission.

When the law was passed recently in the special session, only 12 private banks remained. All are now subject to examination by the state.

A director of the bank has indicated that there is a good possibility that depositors will not lose any money as a result of the shortage. The depositors' funds, however, are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

CENTER OF POPULATION (Marquette Mining Journal)

"Go West, young man," is still exerting a strong pull upon Americans. That is the meaning of the Census Bureau announcement that the center of population of the United States has moved 42 miles westward since 1940 and is now located in Illinois near the town of Olney, a little farther west than Chicago. The first time census experts located a center of population in the United States, in 1790, it was 23 miles east of Baltimore. Since then it has been moving consistently westward. The greatest jump came between 1850 and 1860 when the mass migration to Oregon and California got under way. That took the center of population from West Virginia into Ohio. For the last 70 years it has been in Indiana, and for a time the pace of the westward movement appeared to have slowed down. World War II gave it another spurt, however, and the defense program may again accentuate the trend.

While the pull of the West was predominant, it was by no means the only influence affecting the movement of people in the last decade. The center of population, also shifted 7 1/2 miles southward, due largely to the spectacular growth of Texas and Florida. The fact that, population-wise, our center of gravity is now farther south than it has ever been before indicates a healthy southern participation in the country's industrial development. Neglected areas and wide open spaces of both the West and the South are filling up. This should be a source of general satisfaction. It indicates that the United States is on the way to becoming a well-balanced continental nation in more than the geographical sense.

Questions and Answers

Q—Did the U. S. once have a state of Franklin?

A—For several years, Franklin, lying in what is now the eastern portion of Tennessee, functioned under a full-grown state government, with a governor, state courts, and a state militia. It had its own constitution and legislature, levied taxes, and made treaties with the Indians. In 1788 Congress dissolved the state.

Q—Where does the Japanese beetle hibernate in winter?

A—About eight inches deep in the soil.

Q—What is the origin of the term "stool pigeon"?

A—It was once the custom of hunters to fasten a captive wild pigeon to a stool and move the bird up and down from a place of concealment. It fluttered anxiously, and attracted passing flocks of its fellows into the fowler's net. Hence, a stool pigeon is a decoy; a police spy.

Q—What is the name of the new 48,000-ton super-carrier now under construction?

A—The U. S. S. Forrestal.

Q—In how many places in the United States is paper currency made?

A—Only one, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington, D. C.

The Waitress

By Gordon Martin

I can spend a hectic morning that is hard upon my nerves, and can think I've got more troubles than a working man deserves. And on such a day, I go to lunch with disposition poor, and sometimes I wonder how my friends my presence can endure. But I find my sour outlook is a manner of style, when I'm greeted at my table by the waitress with a smile.

I begin by being grumpy and complaining of the food, which the menu quickly catalogs as fried or boiled or stewed. But she doesn't care to join me in my attitude so glum, and unless I give her back a smile, she'll think that I'm a bum. So I try to shed my grouches and my temper reconcile, when I give my luncheon order to the waitress with a smile.

Then I find that I'm forgetting all my load of morning grief, and that being cheerful once again is sure a big relief. For I've got another lease on life and sunny is the sky, and no longer do I have a yen to bite the nearest guy. And when lunch is done I'm ready to begin another mile, and I owe my disposition to the waitress with a smile.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The Pentagon is keeping mum about it, but, on October 13, Spanish Dictator Francisco Franco called in Maj. Gen. James V. Spry, head of the U. S. military mission to Spain, and staged a savage interview in which he threatened, in effect, to withhold the establishment of American bases in Spain.

The interview was so harsh, and Franco's general attitude has been so unreasonable that General Spry is returning to the United States with the almost certain recommendation that there be no U. S. air bases in Spain.

Unless Sen. Pat McCarran, who heads the powerful Spanish lobby in Washington, is able to batter heads at the Pentagon, this recommendation is likely to be accepted.

What happened was that General Spry was sent to Spain as head of a joint naval-air force mission to arrange for the much-publicized bases which Franco supposedly promised to the late Adm. Forrest Sherman. Although $68,000,000 for Spanish aid was tacked onto the foreign aid bill by Senator McCarran, this was done prior to Admiral Sherman's base-deal and the two were never connected. The offer of bases was made afterward, supposedly as a gesture of friendship by Franco.

General Spry's mission to survey the best sites for bases was due to be completed on November 15, and it was agreed in advance that not until November 15, would he give the Spanish government a verbal resume of his findings.

IMPATIENT DICTATOR

Franco, however, couldn't wait that long. On October 13 he abruptly sent for Spry and demanded to know just how much he could get out of the United States and when.

Taken aback, Spry started to explain that his job was merely to evaluate Spanish bases, not discuss economic matters. He did not have a chance to say more than a few sentences. With only his first few words translated, Franco cut him short, launched into a violent harangue. He continued without interruption for one hour and 20 minutes. The American officer simply had to sit there and take it.

The gist of Franco's tirade was that he needed money and needed it right away. Therefore, he wanted a detailed list of what was being offered by the United States—credits, economic concessions, military equipment—and the U. S. A. wasn't going to get a thing until they put the dollars on the dotted line.

Even if General Spry was not authorized to talk about these economic matters, Franco thundered, he must have seen enough during his survey to make a report that would serve as a basis for discussion.

Then the man who claims to be Europe's No. 1 anti-Communist added the real shocker. He curtly told Spry that, regardless of what the United States offered, he was not sold on having bases used for "fighting a war all over the Mediterranean area." The only thing he had agreed to so far, Franco said, was "joint defense of the Iberian peninsula against direct attack."

This was in flat contradiction to earlier commitments reported to Washington by Admiral Sherman; so General Spry tried to clarify the issue. But Franco ended the interview as brusquely as he started it with an admonition to start talking turkey.

AFRICAN BASES INSTEAD

That evening, General Spry conferred at length with U. S. Ambassador Stanton Griffis who was hopping mad over not having been invited to the conference. Griffis, one of the few Americans who expressed admiration for Hitler before Pearl Harbor, discounted Franco's tough talk as a typical bluff and expressed that opinion to the state department in a cable dated October 15.

Other events, however, indicate the tirade was not bluff. Simultaneously Franco gave an interview to the Mexican newspaper, Excelsior, stating that he would not cede bases to the United States. It was also made clear to the Spry mission that Spain would not bive the United States anywhere near the same privileges given the air force in England, France and Italy. In brief, though we could build bases, they would have to be manned largely by Spanish troops.

As a result, General Spry is returning home with the recommendation that we use the air bases now almost completed in French Morocco. They are so close to Spain they can easily defend the Western Mediterranean.

A U. S. naval base at Cadiz may be recommended by Adm. Robert L. Campbell who was part of the Spry mission—provided the United States is willing to pay for the cost of building a huge commercial port for Spain which could be used as a naval base in time of war.

Alaskan Odyssey:

Lions, Drunks, Fire Wardens And Farm Girls Combine To Speed Stuart On Trip

By STUART INGERSOLL
As Told to Richard Kleiner
NEA Staff Correspondent

The Princess Louise steamed down the Inland Passage from Skagway to Vancouver. On board were half a dozen itinerant Canadian workers. With the help of some 151-proof rum, they'd just

EDITOR'S NOTE: Stuart Ingersoll, a 19-year-old Yale University student, went to Alaska for the summer. He decided to hitch-hike home to New York. Here is his own account of that trip—the story of the people he met, the things he saw, the adventures he had. This is the third of four rollicking chapters that comprise his Alaskan Odyssey.

The rules were simple. They would throw a deck chair over the stern, then watch it bob up and down in the ship's wake. When that one disappeared, they'd get another chair started.

That kept them occupied, until they discovered another sport. They found a rod that evidently led to the ship's rudder. By dint of some rum-inspired experiments, they learned that a few tugs on the rod would change the ship's direction.

For three and a half days, I rode the Princess Louise with its gay passengers. That trip, from Skagway to Vancouver, was the only leg of my trip from Alaska to New York that I didn't hitchhike.

To get to Skagway, I had to take a ferry from Haines. But to get to Haines wasn't so simple. A truck had taken me to a road junction 100 miles inland from Haines.

But the road to Haines seemed deserted. I sat at the crossroads for 22 hours before I got a ride. Once, I decided I must look pretty seedy, so I walked to a gas station—the only building around—and got some water. I sat in the middle of the road, and shaved and sponge-bathed.

Finally, an oil truck bound for Haines stopped for me. We drove along the St. Elias mountain range, some of the most thrilling scenery I have ever seen. There are milky white glacial streams and crystal clear mountain lakes. At one point we came down from a plateau. Across the distant valley, we could see mountain peaks directly at our eye level.

You'd better get a picture of this," the driver said, "because you'll never see anything like it again." And he stopped the truck while I got out and took the pictures.

The town of Haines proved to be a semi-ghost town. It had once been a big Army post, but was now almost empty. While I waited for the ferry to Skagway, I rested in a hotel which had once been an Army building. It had high ceilings and ornate decorations and looked out of place. Skagway is even more ghost-like. It's the kind of town you picture when you think of Alaska—wooden sidewalks and bars with swinging doors. Only now the sidewalks are rotting and the swinging doors hang crookedly from broken hinges.

MOONLIGHT IN THE REDWOODS and Stuart rides along in an outlandish, stripped down armored car. Dawn brought an encounter with a snake.

There were other strange passengers on the boat besides the rum-soaked itinerant workers. There was a carnival manager, moving south. It included a lion, some baboons and porcupines and a trick dog. The dog was a little terrier with a shrill yipping bark.

Every time it barked, it started the lion growling.

There was never a dull moment. In their quieter moods, those Canadian workers were fascinated at meeting someone from New York. They kept referring to the "rich Americans," never just the Americans. And they all wanted to go with me—"if we could only get across the border"—and see New York. They'd never been anywhere larger than Vancouver, and their life ambition seemed to be to see television, just once.

At Vancouver, I took to the road again. Through Washington and Oregon, I traveled with some wonderful people. There was a hard-bitten fire warden, driving through the forest fire country. There'd been little rain for three months. In the day we could smell the pungent odor of smoke. At night, up on the mountains, he pointed out the dull glow of burning forests.

There were two farm girls, rosy and healthy and filled with wonder "about New York. Did the girls really dress like they showed in the movies? Were all the men like Cary Grant? It would have been cruel to disillusion them.

There was a young fellow in an old car, who listened to me talk about the $-67 a week I made digging ditches in Alaska. He made $40 a week and was tied down with debts.

"Well you talked me into it,"

Good Evening...

By CLINT DUNATHAN

COULD BE YOU — The Michigan Department of Health mobile X-ray units (three of them starting Nov. 6) are in the Delta county area offering free chest check-ups for the detection of tuberculosis.

Statistics show that of the total thousands examined, five per cent will have chest abnormalities revealed by the X-ray. All of us are usually convinced we do not have tuberculosis unless we are unfortunate enough to actually have the disease—and know it. Still more unfortunate, however, are those who have TB and do not know it.

For they are living on borrowed time, and each day that passes without treatment may shorten by months the possibility of recovery. "Early discovery, early recovery," is a hopeful slogan that calls for action.

Until you have had your chest X-rayed you, and persons close to you, can not know whether you are among that five per cent in need of treatment.

THE OPPORTUNITY—Today the mobile X-ray unit is at the Perkins school, and on Monday, Nov. 5, it will be at the Rock school from 1 to 8 p. m.

Starting Nov. 6 and continuing through Nov. 14 three units will be stationed in the area, moving from one location to another to serve the largest number of people. This schedule is being presented daily in another section of the newspaper.

Locations for the X-ray units are selected to provide the largest number of examinations in the shortest time. X-ray examination will be offered for a total of 38 unit days in the area and at every location it is hoped that at least 150 X-rays will be made.

Fewer examinations than 150 per day means the service is not being used to its maximum. Persons are encouraged to check the schedule, determine the location nearest them, and take the opportunity to have a chest X-ray without charge.

KEEP YOUR SHIRT ON—Because the X-ray units will in some places be located at schools, it does not mean the examinations are only for students.

On the contrary only persons over 15 will be X-rayed. This is on the sound theory that if parents and older persons in the community with tuberculosis are discovered and treated, the chain of contagion will be broken and youngsters will be safe.

The actual X-ray examination takes only a few minutes, you are not required to disrobe, and the examination is with-in the privacy of the mobile unit.

Before the X-ray your name and address is taken. After the examination, if any chest abnormality is discovered, it will be noted in a report to you by mail. If your chest is normal (as 95 per cent are) you will be informed of your healthy condition.

THE RESPONSIBILITY—Tuberculosis cases have not decreased in number—but the deaths from TB have. This is because the cases have been found and treated early.

Despite mobile X-ray, skin tests, and other periodic examinations offered the public, some people do not think it necessary to have a check-up. Among these in 1949 were probably the 1,400 who died of the disease—because discovery came too late.

The responsibility for tuberculosis control rests with the individual. Only he can order himself in for an examination.

Private and public health agencies can provide tuberculosis detection clinics and sponsor touring X-ray units, but unless the people cooperate by taking the examinations the battle against tuberculosis can never be won.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

PICTURE WRITING GOES WAY BACK

If someone sends you a letter written in a series of almost illegible lines and wiggles, resist the temptation to call his handwriting "hieroglyphics." (But if you give in, don't say high-ro-GLIF-ics, which is a slurred common usage; use the more accurate pronunciation high-ur-ug-GLIF-iks—the word does have five syllables.)

Properly, hieroglyphic writing is a pictorial form, such as that used by the ancient Maya of Yucatan, Guatemala, and Honduras, and especially that used by the ancient Egyptians as much as 5,000 years ago.

"Hieroglyphics" is formed from two Greek words, and literally means sacred carvings. The writing was sacred not only because it was used for the religious texts in the tombs of the kings and princes but also because only initiates, and that meant the priests and the priest-trained scribes, had the ability to write and read.

The "hieroglyphic" part of the word can be recognized in such English words as hierarch (sacred leadership) and hierophant (one who shows sacred things, a priest of the ancient Eleusinian mysteries of the Greek world). Watch for the same word-builder in the personal name Jerome, Italian Geronimo, Greek Hieronymos; the meaning is sacred name.

If the Egyptian characters were sacred carvings, the runic alphabet of the Germanic peoples about 1,500 years ago in northern Europe was a set of secret or mysterious carvings. The runes were used for magical purposes, to write out charms and incantations, to record those secrets too precious to trust any longer to word of mouth; to mark out the calendar on the rune-staff, the record of the mysterious succession of the seasons carved on the magic wand or stick with runes.

1951 Broke All Records In U. S. National Parks

U. S. rangers have closed their books on the greatest travel year in the history of America's National Parks.

From Maine to Alaska and Hawaii, more than 36,700,000 people—one in every four Americans—visited historic shrines and saw majestic scenery that they themselves own as part of the far-flung National Park system. The figure broke the 1950 record by nearly four million.

Uncle Sam's public park domain—mountains and monuments, canyons and caves—embraces more land than the combined area of Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, Delaware and half of New Jersey, the National Geographic Society says. Half of the total is in 28 National Parks; the remainder in 175 National Monuments, historical sites, battlefields, and memorials. National forests, ten times as big, are not included.

Land of Burning Mountains
Yellowstone is the largest National Park. A fantastic land of geysers, hot springs, mud volcanoes, waterfalls, mountains, and forests, it sprawls across more than two million acres of Wyoming, Montana, and Idaho. Old Faithful—not so faithful in timing its eruptions anywhere from 38 to 88 minutes apart—has nonetheless performed for millions of awed spectators since an ex-soldier from the Lewis and Clark expedition, John Colter, made the first recorded visit to Yellowstone in 1807.

The story is told of a laundryman who many years ago went to Yellowstone. He saw with astonishment a bubbling pool of boiling hot water and decided to take advantage of his share of the public ownership. In went dirty clothes and soap. Presently, the soap had its well-known effect on the quiet pool. It suddenly became a raging geyser, and up went clothes, laundryman and all.

Variety is the word that describes the National Parks. In them, touring Americans ride winding trails along the rim of the mighty Grand Canyon of the Colorado, camp on Mount Desert Island in Maine's Acadia National Park, see Yosemite's towering cliffs. They invade subtropical wilderness in the Everglades, climb to Crater Lake or down into the sculptured passageways of Carlsbad Caverns and Mammoth Cave. They stand reverently in the shadows of the giant sequoias. National Parks hold America's most spectacular geography, scenic splendors in safe deposit, as it were, for the generations to come.

Snow Season
When a great national park closes for the season, it means usually that hotels, lodges, meal service and transportation are no longer furnished. Few of the parks close completely to visitors in the winter; today more and more skiers, toboggan and snowshoe enthusiasts are using northern parks in the "off" season.

Snow lies deep and dry on the Rockies, the Cascade Range, and the High Sierras of the western parks. Usually there is little wind, and temperatures are favorable for winter sports from late November until April or May. Even in Alaska's Mount McKinley National Park, all types of winter sports are available through the cold, short days of the long snow season.

'Greatest City' Has Its Faults

Traffic Snarls Up In New York

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—The other day I crawled out of the sack to congratulate myself on being a dweller in the greatest city in the world, and suddenly decided it would be more desirable to be stranded in Patagonia with a broken back. We don't need the A-bomb to tear up the town. We can do it more simply in our own time.

On the record that day there was no milk in the house and a milk-strike going that put milk in the same black-market category of wartime beef. People who don't get into fashionable restaurants twice a year were calling up the tony hash-houses to see if there was a spare pint of the white fluid about, so that baby could feed, and people who never get to fashionable restaurants at all were flocking to the country with an eye on hijacking heifer.

Shipped Home Again

Well, Scotch is getting scarcer and scarcer, and will momentarily be vastly more expensive, and I note that this desperate state of affairs has not been lessened by the fact that the docking strike caused return-shippings of that lovely beverage back to Scotland. They couldn't move it off the docks; they shipped it home again, alas, and when it returns it wears a new price tag.

That was the day when a man who needed a haircut couldn't get a haircut, because the barbers were striking, too. The land of milk-and-honey was in a flop. I didn't check with the bees, but assume that if there were no milk the changes are the honey was on strike, too.

Clark began his business career in the oil refining business and later became president of a New York insurance firm. His hobbies are music and photography.

WHALES BITING

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld.—(AP)—While the northern whaling season does not end until the middle of October, one firm which operates six vessels out of Hawkes Harbor, Labrador, reports a total catch of 270 whales up to the end of August. The same firm caught 237 in the same period a year ago.

ber of the Negro race. That was also the day they couldn't move the ambulances destined for Korea, because of the dock tie-up, but in New York it didn't seem as important as snobbery in the Stork.

The traffic was snarled up everywhere, of course, and the illegal parkers were being abetted by the double and triple parkers. The buses piled up, and pulled out of line, and the taxi drivers cursed everything and each other. A new 15 per cent boost in the rent is about to become reality.

We have had no transportation lay offs lately, apart from the docking strife, but this seems a likely time for Mr. Michael Quill to rear his head. That and a water shortage would be all that is necessary to make New York the asphalt jungle it occasionally becomes, through the contrivances of civilization.

You're Quite Safe From Fatal Snake Bite In Michigan

ANN ARBOR—Of the four kinds of poisonous snakes known in the United States, only one is found in Michigan.

The four poisonous snakes are the rattlesnake, copperhead, water moccasin, and coral snake. One species of rattlesnake is found in Michigan, according to Norman E. Hartweg, University of Michigan assistant professor of zoology and curator of herpetology in the Museum of Zoology.

Explaining the Museum's current exhibit on snake poisons, Professor Hartweg notes that while "the Massasauga rattlesnake, the only poisonous snake in Michigan, has a highly toxic poison, the amount injected is small. It is doubtful that any healthy adult human has died as a direct result of the bite of this snake."

Another species of rattlesnake, however, the Western Diamond-back, has caused the death of more people than any other snake in the United States, Professor Hartweg says. The water moccasin is also responsible for many human deaths, but its close relative, the copperhead, has caused very few.

"The coral snakes are close relatives of the cobras of the Old World," Professor Hartweg explains. "They are found throughout the warmer parts of the Americas, although only two species are found in the United States."

The poison of the rattlesnakes, copperheads and water moccasins all has the same effect on the human—it destroys the red corpuscles of the blood and the capillaries. The venom of the coral snakes, the University zoologist says, acts on the nerves of the victim, affecting principally the ones that control the heart and the diaphragm.

Man Is Killed By Ore Train

Ryan Wottrich, 70, Accident Victim

Ryan Wottrich, 70, a former employee of the Bay de Noquet company, of Nahma, was killed Thursday evening while climbing on a moving ore train near the Stephenson avenue crossing.

The accident occurred a few minutes after six o'clock last night. Wottrich crossed the vacant lot west of Stephenson avenue and north of Third avenue north and climbed on a moving ore car. He climbed two rungs of the ladder and then swung himself between two cars. As he did so, he slipped and fell to the tracks and was crushed under the wheels of the moving cars.

Both of his legs were severed and the lower part of his body badly cut and bruised. He died within a few minutes.

Police Officer Dick Frederick who was called to the accident scene by Peter Houle, C&NW flagman at the Stephenson avenue crossing, said that Wottrich was still alive when Frederick arrived. An ambulance was called but Wottrich died as he was being placed in the stretcher.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home after the coroner, Dr. Tom McInerney, arrived at the accident scene.

The ore train which Wottrich was attempting to get aboard was train No. 2803, headed west.

He was identified by a social security card found in his possession. He has no known relatives in this area.

Wottrich was born Jan. 28, 1881.

are left in Red territory or placed in Allied hands. The Reds say they must have it.

Nuckols said the U. N. position is "firm, but not adamant."

Asked if the Allies would let the talks break down over Kaesong, he said:

"That's a matter of pretty high policy. It means looking into the future."

Nuckols protested the Red bluff proposal "takes everything and offers nothing."

Big Stumbling Block

He referred to the Red acceptance of the Allied offer to withdraw from 200 square miles on the eastern front and the Communist refusal to give 200 square miles in the west, including Kaesong, in exchange. The proposed U. N. eastern withdrawal includes the coastal bulge to Kosong and the last two miles recently handed over before Kumsong in the East-Central salient.

Nuckols said the U. N. apparently was willing to give up the islands it controls off the Korean coast which "have must more military significance than their relatively small acreage indicates."

The islands are off the besieged Red port of Wonsan on the east coast and near Chinnampo and the Taedong river in the west.

He indicated negotiators skirted the biggest stumbling block in the way of agreement on a demilitarized zone. That is: Who gets Kaesong and the hills north of it? The Reds hold the area and insist on keeping it. The Allies want it to guard one of the invasion routes to Seoul, 34 air miles to the southeast.

Mrs. Beauchamp Dies In Chicago

Is Stricken While On Visit

Mrs. Aldina M. Beauchamp, 75, of 514 Second avenue south, widow of August Beauchamp, died unexpectedly of a heart attack this morning at the home of her daughter, Miss Melina Beauchamp, 3420 West Irving Park, Chicago, where she had been visiting the past two weeks.

Mrs. Beauchamp, who was a life-long resident of the community, was born in Canada January 1, 1876 and came to this country as a child with her parents. Her husband died November 12, 1932.

She was a devout member of St. Ann's parish and a member of the Altar society.

The body will be brought here Saturday morning and will be taken to the Boyce funeral home where friends may call beginning at 8 Saturday evening. The rosary will be recited at the funeral home Sunday evening at 8. Services will be conducted by Father Clifford Nadeau at 9 Monday at St. Ann's chapel. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Surviving are the following daughters: Miss Melina Beauchamp, Chicago; Mrs. George Belanger, Escanaba; Mrs. Edward Koeller, Chicago; Mrs. Chester Neilsen, Milwaukee; Mrs. Harvey Gardner, Gladstone; and Mrs. George Jones, Chicago; one son, Tom, Escanaba; a step-daughter, Mrs. Marcelline Clement, Escanaba; two brothers, Edmond DeForge, Duluth, and Jule DeForge, Kingsford; 17 grandchildren and 7 great grandchildren.

Called By President

Announcement that Eisenhower would be in the capital Monday and Tuesday produced some surprise and puzzlement.

White House Secretary Joseph Short said the general was making the flying trip at the suggestion of Mr. Truman.

This seemed fully accurate. It was learned that the first indication the Pentagon had of the plan was when the president informed military officials that Eisenhower would come to Washington for conferences.

Short said Eisenhower's talks while here—with the president, state department and defense officials—would cover matters affecting the Supreme Allied Command the North Atlantic defense setup.

Most of the top military and political officials have or, within the next few weeks will have talked with Eisenhower about the progress and problems of the European defense organization. In the past few weeks, a stream of high level military men have passed through Paris and talked with Eisenhower—Gen. Bradley, secretaries of the services, military chiefs of the armed forces. Secretary of Defense Lovett plans to be in Europe within the next few weeks. W. Averell Harriman, presidential assistant and new foreign aid director, said on Wednesday that he expected to confer with Eisenhower in Paris this weekend.

explosion but saw smoke pouring from the Gudwader boat and then headed to the rescue as the Gudwaders came out on the deck.

If they had not been rescued within a few minutes the Gudwaders would have been forced by the flames to jump into the icy water of the bay.

Once ashore the Gudwaders were rushed to the office of an Escanaba physician and then returned to their home at Perkins. Mr. Gudwader, 42, has second degree burns on his face and neck; Mrs. Gudwader, 41, sustained second degree burns of the face, back and hands; and Robert has second degree burns on his face and neck.

The flaming boat was towed to the municipal dock by the fish tug James E. operated by Emil Perow of Escanaba.

About one year ago the fish boat M&M, similar in design to the Casey Brothers, exploded and burned off Sand Point with the loss of one life.

Two of them, should meet first at the White House on Monday. The conferences with other officials of government and with the military will follow that man-to-man meeting.

There was inclination to associate a development of last week with the White House suggestion for the Eisenhower visit.

Last week George Allen, who used to be a frequent caller at the White House and who also is a friend of Eisenhower, visited Mr. Truman. He told reporters later that the talk was only of "general matters." But it was noted that Allen earlier had talked with the general in Paris.

Many Honors To Delta Growers

Van Acker Is Named State Champion

Delta county potato growers took four top honor placings in the Upper Peninsula Potato Show concluded last night at Marquette, where it was announced that Rene Van Acker of Wallace, Menominee county, was the new state potato grower champion with a yield of 1,061 bushels an acre.

Van Acker's record topped the 1949 state record of 1,038 bushels set by Paul Van Damme of the St. Nicholas area in Marquette county. This year Van Damme placed second in premier tablestock with a yield of 816 bushels an acre.

Joe Steff and Sons, Cornell, placed third with a yield of 700 bushels; Butler Potato Farm, Iron county, was fourth; Pat DeBacker, Rock, fifth; Ernest Hamel, Champion, sixth; Rene Verbrigghe, Rock, seventh; VanDamme Brothers, Rock, eighth; Blomquist Brothers, Dickinson county, ninth; and Jules VanDamme, Rock, tenth.

Certified Winners

Jules VanDamme also placed first with his 32-tuber sample of russet rurals in open class; and second place was taken by Joe Steff and Sons of Cornell.

In the certified growers contest Frank Falkies of Cornell was first with 924 bushels an acre; Ed Palmer, Stephenson, second, 625 bushels; Emil Solheden, Houghton, 649; Emil DeBacker, Rock, 517; and Frank Barron, Flat Rock, 592. Falkies placed fourth, DeBacker fifth and Barron seventh in the certified seed 128-tuber sample.

In the representative tablestock division blue ribbons were won by Van Damme Brothers and Clarence Dietrich of Bark River; red ribbons by Jules Van Damme and George Terrien of Cornell; white ribbons by Octave Carrigan and Steff and Sons of Cornell.

Top 4-H Honors

Delta 4-H club growers took honors at the U. P. show. John Knaus of Cornell had the best 4-H sample in the show and received the sweepstakes award and trophy. David Woodard of Cornell received a blue ribbon, Gerald Williamson of Rapid River and William Woodard of Cornell red ribbons, and William Williamson of Rapid River, white.

In the 4-H premier growers contest Gerald Williamson of Rapid River with a yield of 484 bushels an acre won a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress to be held later this month.

The title of Upper Peninsula potato show queen went to Miss Lois Langford, 17, of Kingsford, representing Dickinson county. Delta county's candidate for queen honors was Miss LaVerne Sundquist of Bark River.

Temperature Drops To 11; New Record Here For Nov. 1

Escanaba was wrapped in a frigid 11-degree weather blanket last night, the coldest recording for Nov. 1 in this area, with records going back to 1872.

And Meteorologist S. E. Decker reports that the cold snap will continue through Tuesday, with temperatures averaging 10 degrees below the seasonal normals.

Marquette also reported a low of 11, a new mark for that area.

No Action Taken To Fire Figy

Pressure By Governor Williams Backfires

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

LANSING—(P)—Another case of backfiring executive office pressure on a state commission appeared to be developing today over Agriculture Director Charles Figy.

The agriculture commission took no action to remove him yesterday although three of the five members were appointed by Governor Williams and the governor's aides have been trying to get Figy out for years.

There were signs that some of the commissioners resented the interference of Williams' aides and were backing Figy for spite.

This was a parallel to the reaction of some of the state conservation commissioners last summer when they believed the executive office was interfering too much in the choice of a new conservation director.

At that time, the conservation body selected G. E. Eddy for the directorship, even though the governor's office wanted D. J. Curry, regional chief at Marquette, and Williams appointees controlled the commission.

Williams got apparent control of the agriculture commission in September when Ray T. Anderson of Mesick became his third appointment to the commission.

Observers cast Anderson in the role of hatchetman for Figy, but so far he has not acted that way. Figy, who was appointed in 1943 during the administration of former Governor Harry F. Kelly, a Republican, has been in disfavor with Williams almost since Williams took office in 1948.

Communications Workers Union Holds Meeting

Thirty-nine members of the Upper Peninsula locals of the Communications Workers of America (CIO) are attending a two-day education meeting at the Delta hotel here.

The presidents and chief stewards of the plant and traffic departments of the Upper Peninsula telephone exchanges are in attendance at the conference, which will close this evening.

Esther Woeste of Columbus, O., international representative of the Communications Workers of America, and Win Berry, president of the Bay City local, are in charge of the organization instruction program.

Here's a way to get your children to drink more milk. It's a way so simple you'll find it hard to believe—but it really works. Try it. Simply set cold FAIRMONT MILK on the table by the pitcherful.

There's something about having a pitcher of ice cold FAIRMONT MILK on the table that makes the children ask for "seconds."

And everyone—adults and teenagers, as well as the younger children—should drink several glasses of this nourishing food every day. Doctors tell us we never outgrow our need for milk.

Once you taste a glass of cold, fresh FAIRMONT MILK, I'm sure you'll say, "Here at last is milk that's really delicious and refreshing."

FAIRMONT MILK has a deep-down creamy goodness that pleases—satisfies—refreshes.

It's the "GROW" Food—it's the "GO" Food. Compare FAIRMONT with any other milk. See what folks mean when they say FAIRMONT is the best milk in town.

Stars Of Yesteryear Will Perform Again At Grid Club Session

Football stars of yesteryear will perform before an audience via motion pictures at the meeting of the Manistique Quarterback club Monday evening.

The meeting will be at 8 p. m. in the music room of the high school building. The room is located on the third floor of the Central section of the building.

Players who will be seen in action again on the screen are the following members of the old Inland Marine team: Norman Jahn, Bob Marks, Harvey Ekdahl, Seb Rubick, Jack Rubick, Harry Dewey, Stan Norton, Charles Burley, Phil Barnes, Louis Rogers, Pete Berger, George Danko and Harvey Patz.

The Marines will be shown in action in two games, both won by them by narrow margins. The games were with the Escanaba Rams here, shown in technicolor, and the Marinette-Menominee All Stars at Marinette, portrayed in black and white.

The public is invited to the program.

Upper 11th Legion Auxiliary Meeting To Be On Saturday

Members of the Manistique Legion auxiliary to attend an Upper District session Saturday night in Escanaba are asked to call Mrs. George Huber, phone 392-W.

The meeting will be held at the Delta hotel, starting at 7.

Local members planning to attend include Mrs. Anton Weber, Mrs. E. J. Doyle, Mrs. William Cowman and Mrs. Huber.

Achievement Day Is Nov. 9

C-C Cooperating In Fall Event

In observance of National 4-H Achievement Week Nov. 3-11, a fall 4-H recognition program will be held Friday, Nov. 9, under the sponsorship of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce and the county extension office, it is announced.

The event will be held at 6:30 at the Oak theatre prior to the first show. Trip and award winners will be announced and 4-H members will receive achievement certificates.

The chamber of commerce is providing free movie tickets and a treat for all club members completing summer 4-H projects. The public is invited.

The 4-H club program is now the largest youth organization in the world, it is reported by Allan J. Norden, district club agent.

Approximately two million boys and girls are now enrolled in 87,000 clubs in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Various other nations also have 4-H clubs or similar organizations, Norden said, including several western European countries, Central and South American nations, Japan, Australia and New Zealand.

Harrison To Speak Sunday

Will Appear At Protestant Rally

DR. S. J. HARRISON

Dr. S. J. Harrison, president of Adrian college, will be the speaker at the Protestant Reformation Rally Sunday evening in the high school auditorium.

The program, sponsored by the Manistique Ministerial association, will begin at 7:30.

A combined choir representing various Protestant churches will sing at the service under the direction of Mrs. James H. Fyvie.

Dr. Harrison is widely known as a public speaker. In addition to being head of the college at Adrian, he is president of the Michigan Council of Churches and the Michigan Colleges Foundation.

He served as a missionary in China from 1920 to 1925 and while there was principal of a boys' school and also served as secretary of the Conference Board of Education. He was one of the founders of the Kuling summer school of religious education. He has traveled and lectured extensively in many countries of Europe, Asia and America.

An invitation to the public to hear Dr. Harrison has been extended by the ministerial association.

Kraft Extension Club
The Kraft Extension club met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Carefelle, 193 North Cedar street.

During the business meeting the annual election took place, with all officers being reelected.

After the meeting the Christmas lesson was given. Lunch was served later.

Evening Circle

The Evening circle of the Presbyterian Women's association met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Paul Sobel, 310 Main street. Mrs. Marvin Fredericksen was assisting hostess.

Mrs. James H. Fyvie was the devotional leader.

Refreshments were served later.

Mrs. Jean Click was a guest at this meeting.

Surprise Party

Twenty-six residents of Hiawatha township, including township officials, gathered at the A. L. Byers residence recently in a surprise observance of Mr. Byers' 82nd birthday anniversary. The surprise was complete as Mr. Byers was preparing to retire for the evening when friends commenced arriving.

Several weeks ago relatives of Mr. Byers held a birthday party for him in Muskegon. His birthday was on Oct. 3.

Pink And Blue Shower

Mrs. Arnold Patz was guest Tuesday evening at a pink and blue shower held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Utecht, 127 South Houghton avenue.

To Show Movie Of Inland Team

Public Invited To Quarterback Session

The program for the next meeting of the Quarterback club, to be held Monday night, will feature movies of the Manistique Marines football team in action against the Escanaba Rams and the Marinette Menominee All Stars, it is announced.

Paul Vezina, who managed the Marines, will have charge of the presentation.

Many local football fans will recall the Inland Marines who several years ago played outstanding football in the Upper Peninsula and northern Wisconsin circuit.

Although the team was disbanded several years ago, the Quarterback club believes that their exploits on the gridiron will prove interesting to fans and especially to sons of Marine players who will have an opportunity of seeing their fathers in action.

In addition to the football movies other films of local interest will be shown by Vern Linderoth. The public is invited to attend.

Elks Bowling On Monday, Tuesday Is Rearranged

Because of a meeting of the Manistique Women's club Tuesday evening at the Elks building, the early week bowling schedule has been rearranged, it is reported by Earl H. LeBrasseur, bowling secretary.

Men's teams which bowl on Tuesday evening will have their matches Monday night. The regular women's bowling on Monday evening will be shifted to Wednesday night.

Movie, Address To Feature Sunday Evening Service

A movie and an address will highlight the service Sunday evening at St. Alban's Episcopal church, it is announced by George Drew, lay minister. The service will start at 7:30.

The movie to be shown, "Window in the Sky", is considered one of the best religious films of the year.

The address will be given by Vaughan Norton, of St. Ignace, who will discuss the general church program for 1952.

Following the evening service an open house will be held at the rectory.

Local Exhibit Wins At Show

County Wins First Place

Schoolcraft county 4-H club exhibits won first place at the Upper Peninsula Potato Show, held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Marquette, it is announced by Clayton D. Reid, county agricultural agent.

The seven individual exhibits at the show won four blue ribbons and three red ribbons as follows: Eunice McGahan, russet burbank, blue; Avis McGahan, russet burbank, blue; Jim and Ann Hardy, seago, blue; Terry Desjardins, russet rural, blue.

Donna Jean Wolfe, russet rural, red; Frances Wolfe, russet rural, red; Dale McEachern, seago, red.

The county exhibit consisted of five samples from five different club members. Schoolcraft won four blue and one red for the county exhibit. Marquette was second with three blue and two red for the county exhibit.

To Demonstrate Ditch Blasting

Event Slated At Yoder Farm Nov. 7

A demonstration of use of dynamite to make a drainage ditch will be stage at Karl Yoder farm Wednesday, Nov. 7, it is announced by Clayton Reid, county agricultural agent.

Yoder asked for assistance in cleaning out an old drainage ditch which has filled up over a period of years. Dynamite was chosen for the job since dynamite is the easiest and cheapest method of making a ditch in areas too wet to use machinery.

Several farmers in the area have expressed an interest in ditch blasting, so if anyone wants to see the job done they can do so by being at the Yoder farm next Wednesday at 10 a. m. The demonstration will be by Frank Sablack and Clayton Reid.

will point out the safety precautions that should be taken in handling dynamite as well as showing how to use it for ditch blasting. He suggests rubber boots for anyone attending the demonstration.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with a feeling of sincere gratitude that we take this means of expressing our deep appreciation and thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us at the time of the death of our beloved husband and father, Hiram Tennyson. Especially are we grateful to Mrs. Scott Creighton, and to his fellow workers at Inland. We are very grateful to Rev. Edgar Smith for his consoling words and other manifestations of sympathy, to those who served as pallbearers, to those who offered the use of their cars, those who sent flowers, and to all others who aided us in so many ways. Your kindness will always be held in grateful remembrance.

annual banquet in the high school gymnasium. Banquet time is 12:30. Principal speaker at the banquet will be Dr. Frank Slutz, of Dayton, O., who will discuss the topic, "I Pledge Allegiance". Toastmaster will be J. Joseph Herbert, of Manistique, regent of the University of Michigan.

J. Earl Cousineau, of the Manistique high school faculty, will be conference song leader, and will preside at a memorial service at 7 tonight in tribute to three outstanding Upper Peninsula youth leaders who passed away during the past year—Harry Brackett, of Escanaba; Dr. George A. Shaw, of Manistique, and Donald McDonald, of Houghton.

Parents and sponsors are invited to the conference fun session at 9 tonight in the auditorium and to the social hour which will follow in the gymnasium.

Final conference business session is slated for 9 a. m. tomorrow with Dr. Slutz speaking on the subject, "Preserving Our Heritage." Discussion groups and a president's meeting are scheduled for 10 a. m.

At the opening session this afternoon Dr. Slutz spoke on the subject, "This is Our Heritage."

Dramatics Club Will Give Play

'Growing Pains' Is Booked For Nov. 7

A three-act comedy, "Growing Pains", will be presented by the Manistique high school Dramatics club next Wednesday evening, Nov. 7, in the school auditorium under direction of Marvin Fredericksen.

Curtain time is 8 p. m.

The play tells the dilemma of the McIntyres who see their son and daughter tossed into the cataclysm of adolescence and can give little help other than directions for their turbulent course from a distance—advice which egocentric youth always rejects, of course.

The youngsters go through their throes in company with neighborhood kids. Many things happen to all of them but the end is bright and promising.

Girl Scouts To Have Play Day

Event Scheduled Saturday Afternoon

A Girl Scout Play Day will be held Saturday, Nov. 3 from 2 to 4 p. m. in the Lincoln school gymnasium, it is announced by Mrs. John C. Hanson, local Girl Scout commissioner.

Mrs. James H. Fyvie will have charge of the program. Invited to the session are Brownies, Intermediates and Senior Scouts, leaders, adult Girl Scouters and members of the council. Special guests will be second grade girls who now are or desire to become Brownies.

The program will include singing, folk dancing and games. Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of activities.

Choral Club In Need Of Sopranos

More sopranos are needed in the Manistique Choral club, it is announced. Other sections of the choral group are fairly well filled, but more singers in all sections can be used. The pressing need, however, is for sopranos.

The club is holding rehearsals on Monday evenings at the high school, starting promptly at 7:30. The session next Monday will be held in the junior high study hall instead of the auditorium.

The Christmas concert to be presented this year will be a mixed one, and will include selections from Handel's "Messiah", well known Christmas carols, and other numbers. Date for the concert has not been selected yet.

Mrs. James H. Fyvie is choral director.

Halloween Damage Negligible Here, Police Announce

Halloween pranks Wednesday evening confined to their operations primarily harmless activity, it is reported by city and state police.

Destruction was held in minimum, a few commercial signs being pulled up and some obstructions being placed on driveways and other places in town, according to reports received by Chief of Police Roy Anderson.

Parties at the high school keep older youngsters occupied during the evening, and small fry were busy "trick or treatin'", the police chief said.

Old American Custom Is Carried Too Far

Berlin—(AP)—The U. S. consulate here is irritated with some Americans who are using their passports like high school or college year books—for the purpose of collecting autographs.

The situation has become so aggravated that the consulate found it necessary to publish a warning notice in the "Daily Bulletin" circulated to American personnel.

People were warned that the passport is "a valuable document (which) must not be altered or mutilated in any manner and no stamps, statements, notations or other additions should be placed in it other than by officials." Such a warning would be superfluous to any but Americans, Europeans, conscious of their nationality and stateless by the millions, value their passports (if they own one) usually next to their lives.

OES Installs New Officers

Ceremonies Tuesday Viewed By Many

Installation of officers was conducted by Minnawasca Chapter No. 96, Order of the Eastern Star, Tuesday evening at the Masonic hall and the impressive ceremonies were witnessed by a large group of members and friends.

The retiring matron, Mrs. Bert Nisonen, and the retiring patron, Archie Cowen, were escorted to the assistant installing marshal, Mrs. Willard Norby. Mrs. Nisonen was presented with a corsage as a gift from the chapter by Mrs. Henry Miller, the installing officer.

Mrs. Elmer Peterson, the newly elected Worthy Matron, was conducted to the east by her husband, Elmer Peterson, Worthy Patron, who presented her with a gift and a beautiful bouquet of roses and mums, a present from the chapter.

During the ceremony, Noble Swenson, guest soloist, sang the numbers: "Sweet Hour of Prayer", "I Would Be True" and "Follow the Glean". Mrs. Clifford Peterson was the organist.

Following the installation an impressive ceremony "Weaving the Colors" was presented in honor of the Worthy Matron by the installing chaplain, Mrs. John P. Vogt; the installing marshal, Mrs. Clyde Fitzpatrick, and the five newly appointed star points: Genevieve Watson, Mrs. Charles Hoffos, Mrs. Robert Ebbeson, Mrs. William Sundling and Mrs. Walter Houghton.

Refreshments were served later. Mrs. Irving Fardel Enderlin, N. D., formerly of Gladstone, and Mrs. Clifford Peterson poured. A bouquet of baby mums flanked by gold and white candles served as a centerpiece.

On the refreshment committee were the Mesdames John Broeckert, Eric Lindahl, John Lindgren and Wesley Heslip.

In This Corner

With Roy Crandall

We've been informed that there will be no football recognition banquet for Escanaba and St. Joe gridders this year . . . Reason for discontinuing the affair is the heavy drain on the Chamber of Commerce budget . . . The football banquet deficit each year constituted seven percent of total budget of the Chamber of Commerce . . . It has also become increasingly difficult to secure outstanding speakers for the banquet except months after the season has concluded . . . The Green Bay grid trip Sunday will take the place of the banquet for both the Trojans and the Eskymos.

Some football fans who followed St. Joe's progress on the gridiron this season have told us they thought Pete Kutches was a better defensive player than offensive . . . It's hard to say, but we asked his coach, Tom St. Germain, about it . . . Tom estimates that Kutches was in on about 60 percent of his team's tackles . . . He wouldn't say which phase of the game he felt Pete was best at . . . But for the records, Kutches' offensive contribution to the St. Joe team follows.

On the ground, Kutches piled up 1,274 yards in seven games, counting only scrimmage plays . . . In addition he handled most kick-off and punt returns and was on the receiving end of a number of passes . . . In the air, Pete threw 74 passes and completed 45 for 730 yards . . . That adds up to 2,004 or an average of 285 yards per game in both departments . . . He scored nine touchdowns on the ground and kicked three extra points while passing for seven more TDs . . . His best rushing total was 314 yards against Lourdes of Marinette and his best passing game was against Crystal Falls with 10 completions in 13 airds for 224 yards.

Latest word from Menominee is that Newberry Coach Morley Fraser did not issue a challenge to the Maroons . . . An item in Wednesday's Herald-Leader says: "Coach Morley Fraser of the Newberry Indians, contrary to reports, did not challenge Menominee to a post season game to decide the U. P. grid title . . . Coach Fraser said he was contacted by Cliff Everett of the Soo, custodian of the Barber trophy, and asked if the Indians would play the Maroons . . . Fraser said he would if a game could be arranged . . . Everett then contacted Coach Ken Radick of the Maroons, but Menominee ends its season with the M & M game and would not play because Radick said it was against MHSAA rules to play post season games."

There was some talk earlier this year of Ward Cuff, former Marquette University and National Football League star, taking over next season as football coach at Negaunee high school . . . Cuff announced this week that he had resigned, effective at the end of the current semester, as athletic director and head football coach at Green Bay Central Catholic high school.

Grid Teams Set For Pro Football Trip

Fifty-nine players, five student managers and seven coaches representing the St. Joseph and Escanaba high school football teams will attend the Green Bay Packer-Detroit Lions National Football League clash in Green Bay Sunday afternoon.

Members of the coaching staffs making the trip with their players will be Tom St. Germain, Ira Hanson and Mac McComber of St. Joe and Jim Rouman, Norbert Stuckenschneider, Frank Miketinac and Steve Baltic of Escanaba high.

Funds for the trip were raised by the Booster club and fans and followers of the two grid teams. The trip will take the place of the annual football recognition banquet.

Midwest Football

CHICAGO — (AP) — Midwest football briefs:

Michigan—Coach Bennie Oosterbaan thinks he may have worked out a bit of defensive strategy that will stop high-scoring Johnny Karras of Illinois Saturday . . . Reports from the Wolverine camp don't describe the plan, but Oosterbaan has been emphasizing it in practice . . .

Illinois—Special plays are also a priority item in Illini practice sessions . . . Coach Ray Eliot has been concentrating on last minute adjustment of formations for particular use against Michigan . . . The Illinois squad is in perfect physical condition . . .

Indiana—It looks like sophomore Bill Holzbach will be at halfback Saturday in place of the drafted Bobby Robertson . . . Two more freshmen, End Merle Reed and Quarterback Florian Helinski, were added to the traveling squad for the game at Wisconsin . . .

Wisconsin—Cold and a light snowfall have only served to pep up the Badgers in practice sessions for Indiana . . . Johnny Coatta's passing looks sharp and a make-believe Indiana aerial game has got nowhere against Badger defenses . . .

Marquette—College of Pacific arrived in Milwaukee yesterday and the stage is set for tonight's encounter with the Hilltoppers . . . The game is figured a tossup . . .

Notre Dame—End Fred Mangialardi is nursing an injured knee and is a doubtful starter for the Irish against Navy in the Saturday game at Baltimore . . . The Irish leave by chartered plane today . . .

Purdue—Halfback Phil Klezek may play for the Boilermakers against Penn State, doctors say . . . Klezek won't start, but he'll be available for duty, if Coach Stu Holcomb wants him . . . Klezek injured his back three weeks ago . . .

Northwestern—End Ciney Rich and Linebacker George King, both defensive regulars, aren't traveling with the Wildcats to Columbus for the Ohio State game . . . Injuries are keeping them at home . . .

Michigan State—The Spartans, idle this weekend, will put on an intra-squad practice game Saturday . . . Just to keep in trim . . .

Ohio State—The Buckeyes are looking only "so-so" in practices for Northwestern, says Coach Woody Hayes . . . Three injured listees, Tackle Julie Wittman, Guard Steve Ruzich and End Sonny Sandee, are improving and may get into Saturday's game . . .

Iowa—Nineteen-degree weather yesterday didn't stop the Hawks from working long and hard, especially on pass defense . . . Halfback Don Comstock and Tackle Andy Buntz will co-captain the Hawks against Minnesota . . .

Minnesota—Weather also was giving the Gophers trouble . . . Their practice field was covered with snow yesterday and limited the squad's outdoor appearance to a brief ball handling drill.

Maple Leafs Close Gap On Red Wings

(By The Associated Press)

The National Hockey League pennant race is shaping up as another duel between the Detroit Red Wings and the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Detroit and Toronto finished one-two last year and the Leafs, after a poor start, once again trail the Wings in the standings today.

The Leafs wrested second place from Montreal last night by downing their arch rivals, 4-2 in a rough game at Montreal. The Wings dropped a 3-2 decision to the Boston Bruins and their advantage was cut to one point. In the remaining game the Chicago Blackhawks tripped the tail-end New York Rangers, 4-2.

Testimonial Dinner For AP Sports Head

EAST LANSING — (AP) — A testimonial dinner for Ted Smits, general sports editor of the Associated Press, will be held here on the eve of the Michigan State-Notre Dame football game.

The Michigan State College Athletic Council is sponsoring the dinner for Smits, a former student there from 1922 to 1925. The dinner will be held at 6 p. m. Friday, Nov. 9 at the College Union building.

Figure Top College Teams Will Fatten Up Averages

NEW YORK — (AP) — Except for Illinois which faces a rough assignment against Michigan, virtually all the top college football teams in the country are figured to fatten their averages tomorrow as the season starts in to the home stretch.

The only outfit that possibly might be in for trouble other than the Illini is Baylor, which, if you want to go by the records, should have no trouble stepping on Texas as Christian. But it's a southwest conference game and they don't go by form down that way.

Baylor is the conference leader and boasts the only undefeated record in the circuit besides being No. 8 in the last weekly Associated Press poll.

Texas A and M is at Arkansas and Southern Methodist plays host to Texas in other games that will have a bearing on the race.

Illinois, tied for first in the Big Ten—another surprise based on pre-season calculations—will have no cinch in defending champion Michigan, although Johnny Karras has not been stopped yet. The Illini ace has scored ten touchdowns in five games, and if the Wolverines are going to win it, they'll have to think of some way to put the crimp on Karras.

Three other Big Ten games are on the card. Minnesota visits Iowa, Ohio State entertains Northwestern and Indiana plays Wisconsin at Madison.

In the Pacific Coast conference, California is figured to be a heavy choice over UCLA. Southern California, makes a cross-country trip to New York to meet weak Army. Stanford has a date with Washington State. The Indians, unbeaten and untied after six games, are the favorites.

Other top games on the coast include Oregon State at Washington and Idaho at Oregon.

Tennessee, riding along at the top of the heap, despite what has turned out to be a weak schedule —primarily because the south in general has been unusually weak this year—tangles with North Carolina. The Tarheels have lost four games, but they're capable of putting up a better battle than Tennessee Tech did last week when the Vols won, 68-0.

Princeton Vs. Brown
Maryland and Georgia Tech, two of the other better teams in the section, entertain foes that might well have stayed home. Missouri faces the unenviable distinction of playing Maryland, the No. 4 team in the country with a record of 5-0, while Duke, beaten twice, enters the lair of the Bulldogs, who seem determined to give Tennessee a battle for southeastern conference honors.

Kentucky, which finally seems to have found itself after a miserable start, plays Miami of Florida; Alabama goes against Georgia, Mississippi State tangles with Tulane, Mississippi and Louisiana State go at it under the lights and the Citadel visits Virginia in other important southern games.

Princeton, the toast of the Ivy league and east in general after 18 straight conquests, plays Brown, an intra-league foe in Tigertown. The Bears are one of the weak sisters of the loop so all they can do is hope to hold the score down, something Cornell couldn't do last week.

Columbia journeys to Cornell and Yale tackles Dartmouth in other Ivy league affairs, while among the independents, Navy, winless, hopes to stop Notre Dame's sophomore-studded powerhouse. Penn tangles with William and Mary in Philadelphia, Fordham plays Rutgers and Congate visits Holly Cross, in other Eastern headliners.

Flyweight Champ Dado Marino Wins 15-Round Verdict

HONOLULU — (AP)—Dado Marino, Hawaii's 112 pound fighting granddaddy, won a close, fast 15 round decision over Terry Allen of London tonight to remain world flyweight champion.

It was Marino's first defense of the title he won from Allen in this same Honolulu stadium 15 months ago. The referees and judges decisions were unanimous.

There were no official knock-downs. But Marino hooked and pushed Allen to his hands and knees three times for no count. Allen knocked Dado on his rear for a no count in the first round.

Despite their eight years difference in age, 27-year-old Allen and Marino, at 35, father of five and granddaddy of a baby girl, were too evenly matched for much blood letting.

Marino weighed 112 and Allen 111½.

Michigan At Champaign Today For All-Out Effort Against Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—(AP)—Coach Bennie Oosterbaan and his rising football squad arrive here today for an all-out effort in Saturday's game of the league against Illinois, the nation's third-ranked team.

There's mounting spirit among the Michigan players. But there's also a healthy respect for one Johnny Karras, the Illinois thunderbolt who is out to make the home fans forget some of the prowess of the immortal Red Grange.

Judging by camp conversation, the game shapes up as a "stop-Karras" campaign.

Defensive Effort
The load will be on the defensive line, linebackers Roger Zatkoff and Gene Knutson, halfbacks Dave Tinkham and Don Oldham and safety Lowell Perry, Michigan's brilliant defensive end.

That's the crew that can make the difference for underdog Michigan. On paper they would be lucky to stop the agile Karras, who has scored ten touchdowns this season, and needs but three to match Grange's 1924 record.

However, that combine has improved tremendously in five games and may surprise. Defensive ends Russ Osterman and Merritt Green have made it increasingly tough on the opposition and two-way tackle Tom Johnson has done his usual fine job.

Zatkoff has proved himself a linebacker of the caliber of the great Dick Kempthorn. And Knutson, a huge sophomore end, is coming along as his partner.

Perry Stars
Oldham and Tinkham have earned a three-game reputation for interceptions and key tackles that makes them far from push-overs.

And Perry, the team's brightest offensive star, has shown himself extremely dangerous in the safety spot.

The chief trouble is lack of depth. The Wolverines cannot match the experienced depth of the Illini and must rely on good health all around to hang in the fight.

Oosterbaan followed his early week pattern, winding up the week's preparation with a long defensive drill designed to halt the T-formation assault of Karras and company.

Practice work would indicate the Michigan coach is pinning his hopes somewhere between defense and pass offense. Michigan will rely heavily on the corps of passer who have been instrumental in rolling up its three victories.

Melchiorre Makes Trip
The squad left Milan at 8:17 a. m. by train today and will work out lightly in Illinois Memorial stadium before settling down for the night at its hotel (Urbana-Lincoln) headquarters.

The squad:
Ends—Perry, Pickard, Osterman, Stanford, Green, Schlicht, Bingham, Knutson.

Tackles—Johnson, Zatkoff, Stribe, Balog, Bennett, Barthomolew, Pederson.

Guards—Kinyon Beison, Dugger, Kelfey, Timm, Wolter, Matheson.

Centers—O'Shaughnessy, Ludwig, Mechlore, Morlock.

Backs—Topor, McDonald, Zanfagna, Billings, Putich, Bradford, Oldham, Eaddy, Tinkham, Withespoon, Peterson, Resoria, LeClaire and Kress.

Kicks On Extra Point Kick In Pro Football

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)—Bert Bell wants to kick the extra point right out of pro football.

There would be no points after touchdowns, and deadlocked teams would play a sudden death overtime period in the National Football league if a plan recommended by Bell, NFL commissioner, is accepted.

Bell made his recommendation yesterday at a weekly luncheon of the Philadelphia Eagles, a member of the NFL.

"I feel in doing away with the point after a touchdown we would reduce by 60 per cent the gambling on pro games," the commissioner explained. "Of course," he added, "this is not mean for colleges."

Seven Points For TD

"The extra point is something almost automatic. The experts hardly ever miss. The field goal is O. K. But by eliminating the extra point, we will do away with the one-point spread in which gamblers are so much interested."

"The closest score, other than a tie," Bell continued, "would be two points for a safety or three points for a placement kick, unless a team boots two field goals."

The commissioner said he would make touchdowns count seven points instead of six. "This would put more emphasis on a touchdown and put it out of reach of two field goals, which count six points."

Bell said the elimination of the extra point would speed up play and do away with a good many injuries.

Hitches Decoy To Live Fish For New Angle

ROCK ISLAND, Ill.—(AP)—A decoy hitched to a live carp is a new duck hunting wrinkle uncovered in this area.

Harold Knight, Rock Island county conservation officer, said he was informed of the new stunt by a federal officer. The officer said a duck hunter approached him in the Illinois river duck hunting region and asked if the stunt is legal. The officer said it is legal as far as he knows.

Hunting from a pond, the ingenious hunter puts through the carp's gills a harness that is attached to the decoy. The carp is small enough that it doesn't pull the decoy under water.

The device is limited to use in small areas. If it was used on an open body of water, the carp probably would pull the decoy out of range and out of sight.

Hunters have been trying to fashion lifelike decoys since live decoys were outlawed several years ago.

The University of Alabama's head football coach, Harold "Red" Drew, served in both World Wars in the Navy.

Pro Cage Referee Accused Of 'Fix'

NEW YORK — (AP)—A basketball referee was accused today of taking $3,000 in bribes to help fix three professional games in November a year ago.

Sol Levy, 41, of Brooklyn, listed as a full-time official for the National Basketball Association, the country's major professional cage circuit, was booked on a charge of bribery at 3:35 a. m. (EST). He had been questioned for several hours.

Thus the basketball gambling scandal, disclosed in college games last January, has implicated an official the first time as well as drawing in the professional side of the sport.

Resigned Coach Hits Accent On Winning Games

TOLEDO, O.—(AP)—Don Greenwood, who resigned as Toledo football coach in a disagreement with university officials, said last night he will give up coaching unless the "accent on win at any cost is abolished."

Greenwood declared in a statement he fears for the safety of football players because game officials are not protecting them from deliberate roughing.

And, he added, school officials are not placing the players' safety above the desire to win.

The former Illinois and Cleveland Brown player said he resigned Wednesday night because Toledo officials did not adequately protest "rough play" in Saturday's game with Bowling Green State university.

Two Knocked Out

Toledo won the game at Bowling Green 12-6, but Greenwood contended four Toledo players were "deliberately roughed up." Two of them were knocked unconscious, but no one was injured seriously.

Players and fans slugged it out for several minutes after the game. Bowling Green officials said the brawl started because a Toledo player hit one from Bowling Green after the game.

Toledo appointed Assistant Coach Clair Dunn to succeed Greenwood immediately. Toledo still has three games to play, including one Saturday with Ohio university, where Dunn formerly played. Dunn will coach at Toledo for the rest of the season.

Greenwood recalled rough football play had worried him ever since he suffered a severe head injury while playing with the Cleveland Browns in 1947. That ended his playing career, and despite three operations, the injury has not healed, he said.

The temperature is expected to be below freezing at game time.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Honolulu—Dado Marino, 112, Hawaii, outpointed Terry Allen, 111½, London, 15. (For world flyweight title).

Philadelphia—Charley Spicer, 148½, Philadelphia, outpointed Walter Haines, 144, New York, 8.

Canton, O.—Billy Graham, 147, New York, outpointed Johnny Cesario, 147, Hartford, Conn., 10.

New York (Sunnyside Garden)—Juan Padilla, 136, Mexico City, outpointed Johnny Kamber, 133, Milburn, N. J., 8.

Cologne, Germany—Pete Mueller, 149½, Germany, outpointed Jean Stock, 158½, Paris, 10.

Hilltoppers Take On Well-Regarded West Coast Eleven

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — Hard-running College of the Pacific, boasting the nation's third-best rushing offense, goes on Midwest display for the only time this season tonight in an intercollegiate football game with Marquette.

The California Tigers, beaten only by Boston University in six starts, ranks third in ball carrying with a 330.3 yard average per game and sixth in total offense on a 404.8 figure, according to National Collegiate Athletic Bureau figures.

Marquette, despite a current 2-3-1 slate, hasn't been beaten at home in two years and is expected to counter COP's ground attack with an aerial offense fired by Quarterback Don Leahy and a five-man receiving corp. Leahy has hit on 50 of 102 passes this season.

The temperature is expected to be below freezing at game time.

Work Bee Will Bee Held By Ski Club

GLADSTONE — A project to improve skiing conditions on the front hills between the ski towns and the club house is on tap here Sunday.

Ski officials have announced that any help on the project will be appreciated. The work will begin Sunday morning at 10.

A hot dog roast will be held in the afternoon for volunteer workers.

Impatient Hunters Sweat It Out For Deer Season Start

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
LANSING—(P)—That frenzied time when it comes at least half of the population of Michigan drops everything and goes deer hunting is less than two weeks away.

Actually, no more than half a million deer hunters are expected to go after the whitetails starting Nov. 15, but even that is a whole lot of people all doing the same thing.

If you put more than five times the number of people who can get to a sell-out football game in the University of Michigan stadium out into the woods with guns, the law of averages makes it certain some of them will get hurt.

Good Insurance Risk
Maybe 11 or 12 will be killed, 50 or 60 wounded and a few more will die of heart attacks. This is not a bad record statistically. Any

Garden

GARDEN—Funeral services were held at the St. John the Baptist church at St. John the Baptist church at 9 a. m. Monday for Mrs. Alcide Robare, Father Roland Bassett officiating at the mass and Father Carmody at the graveside in the new Garden cemetery. Pallbearers included six grandsons of the deceased, William Carey, Lee Robare, Stanley Rochefort, Leslie Rochefort, Isaac Robare and Edmund Robare. The many out-of-town attendants included Mr. and Mrs. William Carey of Muskegon; Alfred Trudeau and the Misses Jessie and Emily Trudeau, Mrs. Peter Sangraw, Mrs. James Lamont, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gagnon, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Longtine, Mrs. Rose St. John, Mrs. Magnus Larsen and daughter Leona, Mrs. Angus McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Robare and Mrs. Cora Monette of Manistique; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robare, son and daughter of Bay City; Mrs. Clarence Menary of Nahma, Mrs. Ben Waskonski and brother Edward of Munising, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Rochefort of Esnig.

Full House In Wall Street These Days

NEW YORK—(P)—Wall Street skyscrapers are enjoying a new era of prosperity after many years because of the war of bankrupting vacancies.

The 70-story Bank of Manhattan Building at 40 Wall Street, one of the tallest downtown structures, is fully occupied for the first time in 20 years with an annual rent roll reported at $3,600,000.

John H. G. Pell, president of the building corporation, reports the 815,000 square feet of office space is rented at an annual average of $4.42 per square foot, with some lower leases bringing as much as $6. This equals the rate of some of the newest skyscrapers in the Midtown.

Crystal Falls Donated Water Plant By Firm

A town in Michigan now has a modern water system because a pen firm in Wisconsin has a heart. Crystal Falls, Mich., (pop. 2,302) has had a fresh water problem ever since deep iron mines in the area began draining water out of local wells. Farmers and others were forced to truck water in barrels from a nearby river to their homes.

A tank could have been used to store water—but a steel tank these days costs in the neighborhood of $20,000. The project was stymied until an interested well-digger firm learned that the Parker Pen company has a 50,000 gallon tank which it no longer needs.

Inquiries were made by W. E. DeWald, consulting engineer for the Michigan township. Yes, the pen company's tank would fill the bill for Crystal Falls all right. However, a quick check of the municipal purse disclosed the townspeople could muster up only $750 as an offer for it. The answer came back from Kenneth Parker, "The tank is yours for nothing. Come on down and take it away."

Crystal Falls, its local problem licked, expects to toast a whole corporation as it inaugurates a new water system in two weeks.

Rapid River

P. T. A. Meeting
RAPID RIVER—A well attended P. T. A. meeting was held Monday evening in the home economics room at St. Charles parish hall. After the business meeting a program was presented with Norman Slough announcing the numbers.

Ronald Talevite, president of the Student Council, told of the purpose and aims of the council. Bob Olson played an accordion solo and Ronald Talevite and Orville Groleau, a clarinet and trombone duet. Mrs. Stade's room won the traveling award for having the most parents present. Lunch was served by the committee, Mrs. Albert Whybrew, Mrs.

THOSE IN UNIFORM

Corporal Wallace E. Larsson of 1126 North 18th street, Escanaba, a member of the Enlisted Reserve Corps who has seen service in World War II departed today from the 2118th Area Service Unit at Fort Campbell, in the first step of his return to civilian life.

Corporal Larsson is one of approximately 80,000 reservists now being returned to civil life by the Army.

During World War II Corporal Larsson served with the United States Navy in the Pacific and Atlantic Theaters.

Teachers Meet At Stephenson Tuesday, Nov. 6

All teachers from Menominee County and city will meet at the St. Stephen Lutheran church in Stephenson Tuesday, November 6. The meeting will get underway at 4:30 o'clock and continue to 8:00 o'clock. Dinner will be served by the St. Stephens Ladies' Aid Society.

William Ellsworth, State Senator, will discuss legislative problems and accomplishments. Walter Gries from the Cleveland Cliffs Mining Company will address the group after the dinner. Schools in the mid county area will close earlier to allow teachers adequate time to attend the meeting. The Stephenson school will close at 2:30 p. m.

The conference is being sponsored by the Menominee County District of the Michigan Education association. Ottar Olson of Menominee is president.

Angus Pineau, Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. Keith Johnson and Mrs. Walter Mosier.

The next meeting will be held on November 26. Mr. Groleau, music instructor will present a musical program.
